

EMPOWERING AUTHORS PUBLISH BOOKS

The world of publishing is now democratized with many avenues opening up for publishing. The process of publishing is still long and cumbersome and does not compliment the creative attitude of the author. Author's job is to write and we are here to transform the author copy into a published work. We are the stepping stone in the author's journey. Our work role starts with the Author's copy and ends with Publishing. We also understand that a book's journey never ends and so we provide a permanent channel of communication from the reader to the author.

A professional writer is an amateur who didn't quit. - Richard Bach

Supporting Creativity and Expression!

International Journal of English: Literature, Language and Skills, has been a journal publishing academic and research articles since April 2012. A natural outcome of this academic enterprise is 'IJELLS Publishing'. IJELLS, as a journal has a wide subscriber, reader and contributor base all around the world. Till date IJELLS has published regularly four issues per year with many special issues and collaborated issues and we were very prompt with our publishing dates. Our publishing process as a journal is open and transparent and can be accessed at www.ijells.com.

IJELLS Publishing

Customized packages

Every Author has their own conceptualization of how their work should be presented to the world. We understand that publishing is an expensive business and not one mantra suits all. Every package is customized to author's unique requirements/parameters.

Registered firm

Any enterprise needs concepts of permanence and credibility to establish itself in a highly competitive field. We have ticked that one off by registering IJELLS as a firm.

Earmarked ISBNs,

We planned ahead and got ourselves approved from RRNA, MHE, and MHRD. Additionally, we have also ISBNs earmarked to our publishing account. This is to ensure a smooth process of applying and approval of International Standard Book Number (ISBN).

As an author, your only job is to write. Leave the publication to us!
